

Special Members Only Discounts for 2026

We invite you to become a member of the Campfire Collective. Our association has partnered with other denominations to provide special "members only" pricing on products used by our camp and conference ministries. The following companies and organizations provide a special discount or value-added bonus to the members of our association during the 2026 calendar year. Members can find the specifics of these special deals (and the instructions for accessing them) by clicking on the link on their site's page in the Membership System. All of these companies and organizations offer their products and/or services to our member sites in both the United States and Canada. This is a complete list of the discounts that will be provided to our members this year.

The Adventure Guild <https://theadventureguild.com>

The Adventure Guild - A Different Kind of Challenge Course Company! At The Adventure Guild, we operate on a different model than most companies in our industry. We believe that course design, inspection, training, and gear supply all affect one another and that they should be addressed as a system, rather than a collection of individual components. Our priorities are quality of service and long-term relationships, striving to be a valued partner and support to our clients' challenge course programs, not just a hired gun. At The Adventure Guild, we don't provide single course services, just complete aerial adventure solutions!
